ne'ma- the National Food Loss and Waste Initiative- has launched the country's first National Baseline Study to measure actual food loss and waste.

This first-of-its-kind study, which involves 3,000 participants, marks a pivotal milestone in national efforts to halve food loss and waste by 2030, in line with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) 12.3. The pioneering 18-month study will measure actual food loss and waste across the entire food value chain, through the participation of households, businesses, and public sector entities, across all seven Emirates. Space42 bolsters D2D messaging through Gatehouse Satcom pact

The project demonstrated NB-IoT applications over Space42's L band geostationary satellites using 3GPP-compliant release 17 technology

ABU DHABI / WAM

Space42 has announced a successful collaboration between its mobile satellite services subsidiary Thurava and Gatehouse Satcom, a Danishbased software company specialising in mission-critical satellite communications, to advance direct-to-device (D2D) connectivity.

The project demonstrated NB-IoT applications over Space42's L band geostationary satellites using 3GPPcompliant release 17 technology, ensuring alignment with global standards and future scalability. This will set the foundation for the launch of Thurava Direct, a new messaging and IoT service slated for commercial deployment in 04 2025.

This initiative demonstrates Space42's operating model: align early with transformative open-standard technologies, scale them through targeted, mission-driven programs, and deliver outcomes through trusted partnerships. It addresses critical sectors such as energy, agriculture, and transportation; domains where reliable, wide-area connectivity cannot depend solely on terrestrial infrastructure. "This collaboration reflects our strategy in action," said Ali Al Hashemi, CEO of Yahsat Space Services at Space 42. "It is about extending the boundaries of mobile connectivity by enabling standard smartphones and IoT devices to connect via satellite in areas where terrestrial networks fall short. Through close engagement with telecom providers, we are addressing immediSPACE 42

"It's been a privilege to support Space42 in moving direct-to-device from promise to proof," said Jesper Noer, VP Commercial at Gatehouse Satcom. "Running 5G NB-IoT over GEO is no small feat, but our software is built for this - adaptable across constellations, compliant with global standards, and ready to support the next wave of NTN innovation.

Thuraya has played a pioneering innovative role in satellite mobility for over two decades, delivering resilient connectivity in some of the world's most demanding environments.

As Space42's mobile satellite arm, it continues to lead in redefining what satellite-enabled services can achieve.

The collaboration has successfully demonstrated that 3GPP-compliant devices, including smartphones and IoT modules, can connect seamlessly to Space42's satellite network.

This validation confirms that Thuraya Direct can be delivered through globally standardised infrastructure, open to any telecom or OEM partner able to interoperate with the system.

With commercial readiness targeted for the end of this year, Space 42 is now engaging with mobile operators and industry players to bring this service to the market.

dnata to expand airside fleet with 800 new units in US$110 million rollout in 2025

nata, a global air and travel services provider, announced plans to deploy 800 new ground support equipment (GSE) units across its global network in 2025.

The rollout, valued at US$110 million, is part of the company's broader investment strategy to further enhance operational performance and reduce emissions throughout its operations.

dnata's new equipment will be delivered under long-term global framework contracts signed with leading manufacturers in 2024. These agreements, worth US$210 million, secure a steady supply of advanced, lower-emission equipment to support dnata's growth and sustainability targets.

The 800 new units will be introduced across 10 countries, with the largest volumes allocated to UAE, Brazil, Italy, USA and Singapore, reflecting significant operational expansion this year in these markets.

Our continued significant investment in our modern fleet reflects both the scale of our expansion and our ambition to lead the industry in operational excellence and sustainability. We are accelerating the adoption of zero-, and low-emission technology wherever the infrastructure supports it — and where it is still developing, we proactively work with our partners to implement the most practical and forward-looking solutions pansion and our ambition to lead the industry in operational excellence and sustainability. We are accelerating the adoption of zero-, and low-emission technology wherever the infrastructure supports it — and where it is still developing, we proactively work with our partners to implement the most practical and forward-looking solutions."

"We take a long-term, datadriven approach and adapt to the realities on the ground. This is how we deliver strong performance, while reducing our carbon footprint for the benefit of our customers, people and communities."

dnata's global fleet strategy

focuses on phasing out diesel engines and transitioning to electric, hybrid, or hydrogenpowered alternatives, tailored to the infrastructure and operational conditions of each location. As a result, more than 40% of dnata's fleet is electric in key markets, including Italy, Switzerland, The Netherlands, and UK. Besides, dnata actively engages with biofuel suppliers to reduce emissions. Most recently, it transitioned its entire non-electric fleet to biodiesel across its extensive operations in Dubai, delivering meaningful carbon reductions while maintaining operational excellence at one of the world's leading transport and logistics hubs.

Operational efficiency is also a key focus of dnata's strategy. It monitors fuel consumption across its GSE fleet using Vehicle Tracking Management systems; conducts logistics mapping exercises to ensure minimal distances are travelled airside; and optimises shifts and parking slots to avoid excessive fuel burn.
