UAE and Kosovo Presidents discuss strengthening bilateral ties

Both sides affirmed their shared commitment to strengthening economic, trade, and investment ties between the UAE and Kosovo in support of joint development and mutual interests

ABU DHABI / WAM

UAE President His Highness Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan met on Thursday with Her Excellency Dr Vjosa Osmani Sadriu, President of the Republic of Kosovo, to explore ways to enhance bilateral relations, particularly in economic and development-related sectors, in a manner that serves the interests of both nations and their peoples.

The meeting took place at Qasr Al Shati in Abu Dhabi during Her Excellency Osmani's working visit to the UAE to attend the World Governments Summit 2026. His Highness welcomed her to the country and congratulated her on Kosovo's Independence Day on 17 February, wishing her country and its people continued progress and prosperity.

Both sides affirmed their shared commitment to strengthening economic, trade, and investment ties between the UAE and Kosovo in support of joint development and mutual interests.

The meeting also addressed the World Governments Summit 2026 and its role in promoting dialogue on key issues shaping the present and future of global development. In this regard, the two sides explored cooperation in the field of government modernisation.

His Highness the President reiterated the UAE's longstanding approach of supporting peace, stability, and development across the Balkans in a way that benefits all countries and peoples in the region and contributes to broader global stability.

Her Excellency Osmani expressed her appreciation for the UAE's support for Kosovo, as well as its impactful development and humanitarian initiatives that have contributed to social advancement and empowerment.

She underscored her keenness to further expand bilateral relations while serving the shared interests of both countries and peoples.

ADFD, IFAD sign partnership agreement

ABU DHABI / WAM

Abu Dhabi Fund for Development (ADFD) has signed an agreement with the International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD), the only International Financial Institution exclusively focused on rural transformation, to enhance co-financing mechanisms and support the sustainability of agricultural projects.

This underscores the UAE's commitment to strengthening global partnerships in support of sustainable agriculture, food security, and climate resilience.

The partnership agreement aims to establish clear foundations for collaboration in the selection and financing of sovereign projects included within IFAD's portfolio, ensuring alignment of financing efforts and coordination of evaluation and approval processes

The agreement was signed during the World Governments Summit in Dubai by Mohamed Saif Al Suwaidi, Director-General of ADFD, and Alvaro Lario, President of IFAD, in the presence of senior officials from both sides.

The partnership agreement aims to establish clear foundations for collaboration in the selection and financing of sovereign projects included within IFAD's portfolio, ensuring alignment of financing efforts and coordination of evaluation and approval processes, while considering the regulatory frameworks and operational policies of both parties. This contributes to enhancing the efficiency of resource allocation and maximising the developmental impact of projects.

Commenting on the agreement, Mohamed Saif Al Suwaidi said, "This agreement with the IFAD reflects our ambitious vision to build strong partnerships with leading international financial institutions, based on the integration of efforts and coordination of implementation and evaluation processes."
