UAE and Egyptian Presidents discuss regional developments in phone call

ABU DHABI / WAM

UAE President His Highness Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan on Sunday received a phone call from His Excellency Abdel Fattah El-Sisi, President of the Arab Republic of Egypt, during which they discussed developments in the region following the escalating military actions and the risks of a widening conflict and its implications for regional and international security and stability. During the call, His Excellency El-Sisi reiterated Egypt's condemnation of the blatant Iranian attacks targeting the UAE and several other countries in the region and affirmed Egypt's solidarity with the UAE in all measures it takes to safeguard its security and sovereignty

Both sides underscored the need for an immediate halt to the military escalation and the importance of prioritising dialogue and diplomacy to address regional issues in a way that prevents further tensions and crises and preserves regional and international security and stability and ensure the safety of its people. His Excellency El-Sisi also commended the UAE's responsible role in supporting de-escalation efforts and strengthening stability in the region, praising the measures it has taken to contain the current escalation. He further affirmed Egypt's readiness to provide all possible support to help preserve regional stability during this critical period.

His Highness thanked His Excellency El-Sisi for Egypt's supportive stance towards the UAE. Both sides underscored the need for an immediate halt to the military escalation and the importance of prioritising dialogue and diplomacy to address regional issues in a way that prevents further tensions and crises and preserves regional and international security and stability.

FINTECH STARTUPS in the UAE attracted investments amounting to nearly $265m in 2024: Report

UAE FinTech sector set to reach $5.71bn by 2029 amid growth

It benefited from an integrated ecosystem that combines advanced digital infrastructure, flexible regulatory frameworks, and flow of global investments

ABU DHABI / WAM

The UAE continues to strengthen its position as one of the world's leading centres in the financial technology (FinTech) sector, benefiting from an integrated ecosystem that combines advanced digital infrastructure, flexible regulatory frameworks, and the flow of global investments, in addition to the presence of leading financial and technology institutions.

The UAE has today become home to a growing community of startups, global financial institutions, and technology solution providers, offering a variety of services including digital payments, regulatory technologies, financial automation, and financial infrastructure, said an expert —WAM

Digital assets provide a wide range of uses, such as faster settlements, more efficient cross-border payments, programmable finance, and advanced financial services. In this field, the UAE is setting global standards to be emulated

These factors have contributed to transforming the country into a platform for developing innovative financial solutions in areas such as digital payments, digital banking services, embedded finance, and digital assets, with expectations of accelerated market growth in the coming years. Both the Dubai International Financial Centre (DIFC) and Abu Dhabi Global Market (ADGM) serve as two main hubs for the sector's growth, hosting hundreds of companies operating in financial technology, artificial intelligence, and innovation. Experts in the financial technology sector have confirmed that the coming phase will witness an acceleration in the adoption of technologies such as digital payments, the cashless economy, digital banking services, embedded finance, digital assets, and blockchain technologies, in addition to the use of artificial intelligence in data analysis, risk management, and the customisation of financial services. Amit Dua, President of Suntec Business Solutions, said that the financial technology sector in the UAE has witnessed rapid growth in recent years, transforming from an emerging sector into a fundamental pillar within the country's financial ecosystem, benefiting from an advanced regulatory environment and robust digital infrastructure that supports innovation and attracts investments. He added that the UAE has today become home to a growing community of startups, global financial institutions, and technology solution providers, offering a variety of services including digital payments, regulatory technologies, financial automation, and financial infrastructure. Mohammed bin Rashid issues Law on Dubai Police Academy

DUBAI / WAM

In his capacity as the Ruler of Dubai, His Highness Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum, Vice President and Prime Minister, issued Law No. (7) of 2026 on Dubai Police Academy.

The Law defines the Academy as a centre of excellence for policing, legal, and security education, with the objective of providing highly qualified personnel to police forces, security, and military entities.

According to the Law, the Dubai Police Academy aims to provide high-quality, innovative education, support research and continuous development, and promote military discipline, accountability, and institutional values. It also defines the Academy's scope and organisational structure.

The Law stipulates the formation of a Board of Trustees for the Dubai Police Academy as the highest authority overseeing the academy's affairs and administration.

The Board comprises a Chair, a Vice Chair, and members with expertise in policing, legal, security, and academic fields, in line with global best practices in the governance of police education institutions.

The Board is responsible for approving the academy's strategic plans, education, training and research policies, academic programmes, and specialised research units. It also approves standards for awarding academic degrees, student regulations and violations, the academy's organisational structure, and the annual budget and final accounts.

The Law also established a "Scientific Council", formed by a decision of the Director of the Dubai Police Academy, chaired by the Dean, with the membership of the Assistant Deans, heads of academic departments and training and research units, and two members of the teaching staff or officers.

Furthermore, the Law outlines the Scientific Council's responsibilities. These include proposing the Academy's strategic plans and policies for education, training and research. It also proposes academic programmes and the criteria for awarding academic degrees, and submits them to the Director of the Academy for approval. The Council also approves research standards, curricula, and the Academy's study and training systems.

MoFA, in coordination with NCEMA, continues to implement evacuation plans, facilitate return of around 500 UAE Golden Visa holders and residents stranded abroad

ABU DHABI / WAM

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MoFA) and the National Emergency Crisis and Disaster Management Authority (NCEMA) announced the continuation of their joint efforts to ensure the safety and wellbeing of everyone living in the United Arab Emirates, facilitating the return of around 500 Golden Visa holders and residents to the country through air and land entry points. Their return had previously been hindered due to ongoing regional developments, including airspace closures and disruptions to global aviation.

These efforts reflect the UAE's long-standing humanitarian approach and the vision of its wise leadership to provide support and care for both citizens and residents alike, guided by the principle of "People First." This principle forms a cornerstone of the UAE's national policies and strategic framework, aimed at enhancing the wellbeing and quality of life of all members of society while ensuring the highest levels of protection, security, and stability at all times and wherever they may be.

MoFA and NCEMA affirmed that from the very first moments of the developments witnessed in the region, both entities were fully prepared to respond by taking the necessary precautionary and proactive measures, each within its respective mandate.
