THE Digital School has successfully reached more than 850,000 beneficiaries across 40 countries

Digital School's campaign hits 70% milestone in record time

The "Donate Your Own Device 2.0" campaign targets refurbishing, recycling, and distributing the devices to students worldwide

DUBAI / WAM

Launched by the Digital School, the "Donate Your Own Device 2.0" campaign has recorded a significant milestone, attracting wide community engagement and achieving 70% of its target, namely collecting 100,000 electronic devices, in record time.

Launched in August 2025 in collaboration with the Emirates Red Crescent (ERC), and with the participation of more than 140 government entities, private sector organisations, and educational institutions across the UAE, the "Donate Your Own Device 2.0" campaign aims to collect 100,000 used electronic devices. It targets refurbishing, recycling, and distributing these devices to students worldwide.

It reflects a comprehensive vision that integrates education, humanitarian action, and environmental sustainability, further promoting its position as one of the leading global initiatives aiming to expand digital learning and enable students in underserved communities.

Omar Sultan Al Olama, Minister of State for Artificial Intelligence, Digital Economy and Remote Work Applications and Chairman of the Board of the Digital School, stated that the campaign's achievements embody the UAE's vision and reflect the leadership's strategic directives to leverage technology and digital knowledge in humanitarian and community empowerment, thus contributing to expanding access to digital education worldwide and reinforcing a sustainable approach that combines innovation with social impact.

“The initiative represents a leading model of effective partnerships between government, the private sector, and the community, supporting the development of resilient digital education ecosystems that keep pace with global transformations and empower underserved communities with the tools of the future,” he added.

Dr. Hamdan Musallam Al Mazrouei, Chairman of the Board of the Emirates Red Crescent and Member of the Board of the Digital School, stated that the "Donate Your Own Device" initiative promotes the UAE's leading model that brings together humanitarian and development efforts with environmental sustainability.

“The outstanding results achieved by the campaign reflect the community's awareness and commitment to the values of giving and social responsibility. It goes beyond simply providing devices; contributing to empowering students in underserved communities with access to quality digital education that supports their academic journey and shapes the future. The strategic partnership between the Emirates Red Crescent Authority and the Digital School reflects the integrated efforts to boost the initiative's impact, not only in supporting education, but also in embedding sustainability through reuse and recycling, thus contributing to the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals,” he added.

He re-affirmed that the ERC continues to support such high-impact initiatives and work with partners to include more beneficiaries regionally and internationally, further promoting the UAE's position as a global model in leveraging innovation to serve humanity.

Launched in 2023 during the UAE's Year of Sustainability, the "Donate Your Own Device" campaign, represents an exceptional Emirati model that combines humanitarian innovation with environmental sustainability.

The devices collected, with a total weight of approximately 320 metric tonnes, have generated tangible environmental impact; reducing 320 tonnes of CO2 emissions, saving more than 1.5 million kilowatts of energy, decreasing fuel consumption by over 460,000 litres, and limiting electronic waste equivalent to more than 90,000 square metres.

Zayed Charity Run organises run for nation race on 18 April

ABU DHABI / WAM

The Supreme Organising Committee of the Zayed Charity Run, in cooperation with the Abu Dhabi Sports Council and National Projects Office, announced today the organisation of the "Hassantak Ya Watan" sports race, scheduled to take place at 8:00 a.m. on 18 April. The race will start from Wahat Al Karama, with broad participation from various segments of society, in an event that combines sport and national spirit.

The organising committee stated that the race titled "I fortified you, my homeland" aims to enhance community awareness of the importance of physical fitness, while reinforcing values of belonging and loyalty to the nation. The event carries a symbolic significance that reflects appreciation for the sacrifices of the martyrs commemorated at Wahat Al Karama, one of the UAE's major national landmarks.

Thousands of participants are expected to take part in the race, alongside their families and a large audience interested in sports and community activities. The race will feature a single 5-kilometre category, allowing participation across different age groups and fitness levels. Lieutenant General (Ret.)

Mohammed Hilal Al Kaabi, Chairman of the Supreme Organising Committee of the Zayed Charity Run, said the event embodies the vision of the UAE leadership in promoting and strengthening national values among all members of society.

Yas Mall joins Hidden Disabilities Sunflower programme

The mall provides a strong platform to introduce and scale inclusive initiatives across Aldar's destinations

ABU DHABI / AD MEDIA OFFICE

Aldar has reached a significant milestone in advancing accessibility with Yas Mall becoming the first mall in the region to meet the requirements of the global Hidden Disabilities Sunflower programme, ensuring that People of Determination visitors with non-visible needs can receive the additional support they may need.

The milestone reflects a strategic collaboration between Aldar, Zayed Authority for People of Determination, and Topland. Led locally by Zayed Authority for People of Determination as the enabling partner in the UAE and supported by Topland as the exclusive partner of Hidden Disabilities Sunflower in the Middle East (official accreditation body of the Sunflower lanyards), the partnership brings the globally recognised initiative to Yas Mall.

The Hidden Disabilities Sunflower programme is embedded across customer experience operations at Yas Mall with all customer facing staff trained to identify the sunflower lanyard and use enhanced service protocols to provide the necessary support to customers. The initiative ensures a consistent and inclusive experience for all.

Full membership of the Hidden Disabilities Sunflower programme requires meeting established international criteria, including comprehensive staff training and full operational integration. Yas Mall's achievement demonstrates how accessibility can be embedded into operations, training, and customer engagement to deliver meaningful and lasting community impact for communities.

As part of this commitment, Aldar has commissioned 10,000 Sunflower lanyards, produced by People of Determination, enrolled at Zayed Authority for People of Determination's printing

Louvre Abu Dhabi announces call for proposals for 'Art Here 2026', 'Richard Mille Art Prize'

The 2026 edition expands to India alongside the GCC, reflecting the longstanding ties between India and the UAE, rooted in exchange, coexistence and shared human values

ABU DHABI / WAM

Louvre Abu Dhabi has announced an open call for proposals for the sixth edition of its flagship contemporary art initiative, Art Here 2026, and the Richard Mille Art Prize.

The call for proposals is open until 31st May 2026, and artists can submit their proposals via Louvre Abu Dhabi's website.

The 2026 edition expands to India alongside the GCC, reflecting the longstanding ties between India and the UAE, rooted in exchange, coexistence and shared human values.

Artists from GCC (nationals and residents) and India (nationals) are invited to submit proposals around the theme Confluences, which explores how the contemporary world is shaped by overlapping histories, cultures and ecologies, and how encounters can emerge as sites of exchange, friction, hybridity and transformation.

As part of this edition, artists are encouraged to develop proposals for site specific monumental artworks that engage with the outdoor spaces beneath Louvre Abu Dhabi's iconic dome, beginning around the Damascene fountain and continuing through a passageway towards a contemplative shallow pool and Jenny Holzer's public art wall installation.

Launched in 2021, Louvre Abu Dhabi Art Here champions local and regional talent and spotlights the region's vibrant art and culture scene, while continuing to expand its reach across geographies, creating space for cross-cultural interactions and stories of human creativity that transcend individual cultures and civilizations.

This ethos underpins Confluences, which reflects on the idea that, like the sea, culture is not static or singular, but layered and constantly evolving through movement, encounter and return.

It engages with ideas of migration, separation, longing

■ An esteemed jury will evaluate submissions and select the shortlisted artworks to be commissioned for the Art Here 2026 exhibition, opening in November 2026

■ The 2026 Richard Mille Art Prize will then recognise one of the selected artists with a grand prize of US$60,000 and loss, while also speaking of acceptance, resilience and regeneration, emphasising that the intersection of diverse languages, food, music and community practices offers some of the richest shared experiences.

An esteemed jury will evaluate submissions and select the shortlisted artworks to be commissioned for the Art Here 2026 exhibition, opening in November 2026.

The 2026 Richard Mille Art Prize will then recognise one of the selected artists with a grand prize of US$60,000. The prize aims to support and showcase contemporary artists, in line with the museum's mission to connect cultures and spotlight regional talent. The Richard Mille Art Prize winner will be announced in December 2026.

UAE National Pavilion to present 'Washwasha' at Venice Biennale

'Washwasha' situates contemporary artistic practices within this extended continuum of transmission and exchange

The title "Washwasha", a phonetic rendering of the Arabic word for "whispering", serves as a starting point for exploring themes of movement, technology, oral histories, and the relationship between language, body, and identity

ABU DHABI / WAM

The National Pavilion UAE announced that it will present its exhibition "Washwasha" from 9th May till 22nd November 2026, as part of the 61st International Art Exhibition of La Biennale di Venezia.

The exhibition is curated by Bana Kattan, Curator and Associate Head of Exhibitions at the Guggenheim Abu Dhabi Project, with Assistant Curator Tala Nassar.

"Washwasha" brings together works by six artists: Alaa Edris, Mays Albaik, Jawad Al Malhi, Farah Al Qasimi, Lamy Gargash, and Taus Makhacheva. Their works explore contemporary soundscapes in the UAE and their ability to preserve traces of memory, reflect rapid transformations, and capture movement, migration, and deep-rooted connections to the land.

The title "Washwasha", a phonetic rendering of the Arabic word for "whispering", serves as a starting point for exploring themes of movement, technology, oral histories, and the relationship between language, body, and identity. These themes reflect the lived realities of many who shape and are shaped by the UAE's cultural landscape.

Sound has long served as a platform for collective self-expression, from oral storytelling and poetry circles to locally driven broadcasting efforts. "Washwasha" situates contemporary artistic practices within this extended continuum of transmission and exchange.

These histories present the UAE not as a fixed cultural form, but as a space shaped by mobility, communication, and layered modes of listening across land and sea. By contrasting early collective sound practices with contemporary, technologically mediated listening cultures, the exhibition reflects on how shifts in infrastructure in the UAE — architectural, technological, and social — have transformed how communities hear and are heard.

Alongside the exhibition, the Pavilion will publish a volume featuring essays and conversations exploring sound from historical, personal, and theoretical perspectives.

The National Pavilion UAE continues to engage local communities to support the growth of cultural and creative industries through public programming and specialised professional opportunities.

Sheikh Salem bin Khalid Al Qassimi, Minister of Culture, said, "Since its inception, the National Pavilion UAE has served as a platform to nurture and showcase the country's creative talent on the global stage of La Biennale di Venezia.

"Washwasha" brings together works by six artists: Alaa Edris, Mays Albaik, Jawad Al Malhi, Farah Al Qasimi, Lamy Gargash, and Taus Makhacheva.

Their works explore contemporary soundscapes in the UAE and their ability to preserve traces of memory, reflect rapid transformations, and capture movement, migration, and deep-rooted connections to the land

Saadiyat Cultural District Abu Dhabi launches 'Museum Pass' offering access to three world-class museums

Prices start at AED 120 for a two-museum pass, with a three-museum pass option available for AED 170, both valid for 30 days from first use

ABU DHABI / GULF TIME

Saadiyat Cultural District Abu Dhabi has launched the Museum Pass, a flexible and cost-effective ticket that lets visitors explore three of its museums — Louvre Abu Dhabi, Natural History Museum Abu Dhabi and Zayed National Museum — under one convenient pass.

Prices start at AED 120 for a two-museum pass, with a three-museum pass option available for AED 170, both valid for 30 days from first use. Kids under 18 visit free with every pass, making it an ideal choice for families planning a day or weekend in the district. The pass is available to purchase online and at kiosks within the museums.

The Museum Pass marks

For residents and visitors looking to explore more than one museum in a single visit or across several weeks, the pass offers both the flexibility and the value to make that easy
