UAE leads in adoption of AI shopping, says research

Overall, 79% of UAE consumers feel comfortable letting an AI complete a purchase for them, and only 2% said they would not be motivated to use an AI shopping agent at all —WAM

DUBAI / WAM

A new research from Checkout.com, a leading global digital payments company, has found a growing gap between emerging consumer demand and the trust, control and infrastructure needed to support agentic commerce. This is according to Checkout.com's new report, Agentic Commerce 2026: The State of Consumer Demand and Merchant Readiness.

While a significant segment of global consumers expect AI shopping to scale quickly, the UAE is outstripping all other surveyed regions in adoption velocity. For UAE consumers not yet using the technology, they expect agentic commerce to handle 10% or more of their online shopping in just 12 months on average. Overall, 79% of UAE consumers feel comfortable letting an AI complete a purchase for them, and only 2% said they would not be motivated to use an AI shopping agent at all.

The result is a unique shift in consumer dynamics where trust boundaries are being entirely redrawn in the UAE. Nearly two-thirds (64%) of UAE consumers agree they would trust an AI shopping agent more than their own family members to shop for them – higher than the US (27%) or the UK (25%). 64% believe an AI shopping agent would buy clothes that suit them better than they can pick out for themselves.

This comfort extends into highly sensitive financial categories; nearly a quarter of UAE consumers (24%) are comfortable sharing their salary, disposable income, and real-time bank balance with an AI, while 19% would grant it access to their personal calendar.

Consumers are clear on how organizations can nurture trust with agentic commerce, but in the UAE, this automation comes with reshaping of brand loyalty. The research found that 71% of UAE shoppers would let an AI shopping agent switch their preferred brands and substitute products if it found a better value option. To counteract this, 24% state that knowing the AI would only buy from retailers or brands they have pre-approved would most increase their confidence in the technology. Agentic commerce for UAE consumers is being driven by convenience, but it also reveals atypical shopping behaviors.

While Western consumers relegate complex purchases to the bottom of their lists, the UAE is open to AI handling their money, with 22% saying financial services and insurance products would be among the first things they delegate to an AI.

Subject of the Notice: Notice to the Notified Party to pay the debt owed to it in order to avoid opening of bankruptcy proceedings.

Notice Recalls:
- According to the final and final judgment issued in the case No. 1862/2022 Summary Civil by Dubai Courts, the Notifying Party obtained a judgment obliging the first and second Respondents to jointly pay the amount of AED 1,287,791.25 (one million two hundred eighty seven thousand seven hundred and ninety-one dirhams and twenty-five fils) in addition to a legal interest of 5% payable annually on the total amount mentioned above effective from 19/05/2022 to full payment date.

- The Notifying Party opened the execution file No. 2023 25 civil execution for execution of the legal amounts and its interest determined under the verdict.

- Whereas, the first and second notified parties refused to pay the full amount due from and payable without a reason or a legitimate justification whereas they only paid an amount of AED 38,263.25. Thus the remaining balance amounting to AED 1,241,528 in addition to the legal benefits remains payable and due.

- Whereas, the third notified party is the manager of the second notified party, was intentionally hiding his money and income away from the bank account of the second notified party, and subsequently smuggled the money to prevent him from being attached in both cases, which is considered as fraudulent behaviour by the third notified party, punishable by imprisonment and a fine not exceeding AED 500,000.

- WHEREAS, under the Article No. 1/16 of the Federal Decree-Law No. (51) of 2023 Promulgating the Financial and Bankruptcy Law, it is stipulated that: "An ordinary creditor or a group of ordinary creditors may submit an application to initiate or bankruptcy proceedings in the event that the debtor defaults on any or more debts owed to them, provided that this debt is unconditional, undisputed and payable. In addition, the value of the debt shall not be less than the amount determined by the Executive Regulations of this Law on the date of submitting the application, provided that the applicant has previously served a notice to the debtor of the necessity to pay off the debt owed by the latter, not later than (30) thirty days from the date of the notice and the debtor has not taken the necessary measures to repay such debt."

The Article 27 of the same Decree-Law also states that unless a final judgment is issued declaring the bankruptcy of a company, its members of the board of directors, directors and its shareholders shall be punished by imprisonment and a fine not exceeding (500,000) Five Hundred Thousand Dirhams or one of these two penalties, if they commit one of the following acts:

2. Failure to maintain commercial books sufficient to determine the true financial position of the company or failure to carry out the inventory required in accordance with the law.

4. Dispose of its goods or any of its assets after the cessation of payment, if the same is intended for concealing these assets from creditors.

Since this was the case, it was established that the first and second notified parties had failed to pay their debts without a legal reason or justification, and the third notified party also committed a misdemeanour with fraudulent intent to hide the clinic's refrigerators and traveled to her second country from her bank account to prevent him from being attached, which is the capacity of the clinic. In the event that they continue to refuse to pay, the Notifying Party has the right to apply to the competent court to submit a request to open bankruptcy proceedings for the first and second notified parties to be referred to the third defendant for fraud pursuant to Article 271 of the First Decree Law No. 91/21/16 on Bankruptcy, as amended by Federal Decree-Law No. 21/2020, in addition to obliging the third issuer to pay the amount due to the issuer. Claim: Therefore

Under this notice, the Notifying Party, hereby notifies the Notified Parties to make payment of the outstanding debt amount to AED 1,243,528 (one million two hundred forty-three thousand and five hundred twenty-eight), within a period of thirty days from the date of receipt of this notice, pursuant to the Article 15/1 of the Federal Decree-Law No. 51/2023 on Bankruptcy and its amendments, otherwise the notifying party will be forced to recourse to the competent court to submit request for initiation of procedures for bankruptcy of the notified parties.

All other rights of the Notifying party are reserved.
