UAE President discusses bilateral ties and regional developments with President Sisi during fraternal visit to Egypt

The two sides reviewed a number of regional and global issues of mutual interest such as developments in the Middle East

CAIRO / WAM

UAE President His Highness Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan on Monday met with Egyptian President His Excellency Abdel Fattah El-Sisi during a fraternal visit to the Arab Republic of Egypt.

The two leaders discussed the strong relations between the UAE and Egypt and cooperation across various sectors, particularly in development-related fields, as well as opportunities to further strengthen ties in support of their mutual interests and the prosperity and wellbeing of their peoples.

They also reaffirmed their commitment to continued consultation on various issues in light of the shared challenges facing the region.

The two sides reviewed a number of regional and international issues of mutual interest, particularly developments in the Middle East and their serious implications for regional and international security and stability.

They stressed the importance of working to promote peace and stability as essential foundations for development and a more prosperous future for the peoples of the region.

Upon his arrival at Cairo International Airport earlier in the day, His Highness Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed was received by Egyptian President His Excellency Abdel Fattah El-Sisi.

His Highness was accompanied during the visit by a delegation comprising HH Sheikh Hamdan bin Mohamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan, Deputy Chairman of the Presidential Court for Special Affairs; Sheikh Mohammed bin Hamad bin Tahnoon Al Nahyan, Advisor to the UAE President; and a number of ministers and officials.

EDGE, Safran seal strategic pact in aerospace, defence

The firms cooperate on several programmes across defence electronics, smart weapons, building on three decades of Safran's presence in the UAE

PARIS / WAM

EDGE Group, the UAE-based advanced technology and defence group, and Safran, the French aerospace and defence leader, on Monday signed a Strategic Cooperation Agreement at Eurosatory 2026, establishing a structured framework for a deeper cooperation and broadening the scope of joint work across the wider portfolios of both groups.

EDGE Group and Safran cooperate on several programmes across defence electronics, smart weapons and other key areas, building on more than three decades of Safran's presence in the United Arab Emirates.

The Strategic Cooperation Agreement further strengthens this partnership by extending its scope to a broader range of equipment, capabilities and know-how that the two groups can address together. It responds to the profound shift in modern warfare, including the growing role of unmanned systems, electronic warfare and the need for greater resilience and autonomy of defence capabilities.

Olivier Andriès, Chief Executive Officer of Safran, said, “Safran's long-standing presence in the United Arab Emirates provides a solid foundation for our partnership with EDGE. Through this Strategic Cooperation Agreement, we are committed to building a shared vision focused on developing advanced technologies and innovative solutions. By combining our respective strengths and expertise, Safran and EDGE aim to accelerate the emergence of high-value capabilities to address current and future challenges in the aerospace and defence sectors.”

UAE affirms importance of dialogue, diplomacy and adherence to international law to reinforce regional security and stability

ABU DHABI / WAM

In light of the announcement regarding the agreement reached on a Memorandum of Understanding between the United States of America and the Islamic Republic of Iran, the United Arab Emirates affirms the importance of prioritising dialogue and diplomacy, and adhering to international law, in a manner that reinforces regional security and stability.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs emphasised the importance of full compliance with the provisions of the agreement, ensuring an immediate and comprehensive cessation of hostilities in the region, respect for the sovereignty of states and the principles of good neighborliness, strict adherence to international law, and the protection of maritime routes and freedom of international navigation, including the uninterrupted flow of traffic through the Strait of Hormuz, thereby advancing security, stability, and economic prosperity at both the regional and global levels.

The Ministry commended the diplomatic efforts led by US President Donald Trump that contributed to reaching this agreement, and the contributions of the relevant countries and parties in supporting these efforts.

The Ministry also stressed the importance of continuing nego-

Dubai-Africa ties celebrate decade of exceptional growth

The achievements align with the Dubai Economic Agenda (D33), which aims to double the size of the emirate's economy by 2033

DUBAI/WAM

Over the past decade, Dubai has successfully consolidated its position as one of Africa's most important economic partners, supported by a long-term strategic vision that has strengthened trade and investment ties across the continent and reinforced the emirate's role as a global gateway connecting Africa with international markets.

Economic indicators from Dubai Chamber of Commerce highlight the scale of transformation in relations between Dubai and Africa. Non-oil trade between the two sides increased by 325 percent between 2016 and 2025, reaching US$146 billion in 2025, reflecting rapid growth in trade volumes and expanding economic partnerships.

Dubai's investments in Africa reached approximately US$77 billion during the same period, contributing to the creation of more than 70,000 jobs, underscoring the emirate's growing role as a key driver of investment and economic development across the continent.

These achievements align with the Dubai Economic Agenda (D33), which aims to double the size of the emirate's economy by 2033. Africa occupies a central position within the strategic economic corridors targeted by Dubai to strengthen its global presence and diversify its trade and investment partnerships.

In this context, Salem Al Shamsi, Vice President of International Relations at Dubai Chambers, said that Africa represents one of the most important future growth markets for Dubai, noting that the chambers continue to strengthen engagement between business communities on both sides and open new avenues for cooperation and investment.

He explained that Dubai Chambers has recently expanded its trade missions to promising African markets, organising visits to Ghana, Ethiopia and South Africa with the participation of more than 20 Dubai-based companies to explore investment and commercial opportunities and build new partnerships that support business growth.

The continued increase in the number of African companies operating from Dubai reflects the success of these efforts. The number of African companies registered with Dubai Chambers has surpassed 30,000, representing annual growth of 14.3 percent and highlighting the emirate's attractiveness as a global hub for business, trade and logistics services.

Africa accounted for 17.2 percent of Dubai's total trade with the world in 2025, demonstrating the continent's growing importance within the emirate's economic strategy and the significant opportunities African markets offer to Emirati and international companies.

To further strengthen this direction, Dubai International Chamber continues to expand its network of overseas offices under the "Dubai Global" initiative, which currently comprises 39 representative offices worldwide and aims to reach 50 offices.

UAE advances worker safety, well-being standards to new heights

ABU DHABI/WAM

The UAE continues to strengthen workers' rights and provide a safe and sustainable work environment through an integrated framework of legislation and policies that place workers' health, safety and quality of life at the forefront, supporting economic development and social stability.

The UAE is focused on enhancing occupational health and safety standards and implementing best practices that protect workers and improve their well-being, reflecting its view of human capital as a key partner in the nation's development journey. These efforts further reinforce the country's position as a preferred global destination for living, working and investment.

In this context, the UAE begins implementing its Midday Break (Occupational Heat Stress Prevention Policy) for the 22nd consecutive year, effective from 15th June to 15th September 2026.

The policy prohibits outdoor work under direct sunlight daily from 12:30 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

The UAE is focused on enhancing occupational health and safety standards and implementing best practices that protect workers and improve their well-being, reflecting its view of human capital as a key partner in the nation's development journey

The continued implementation of the policy reflects the UAE's humanitarian approach to regulating the labour market, contributing to higher worker productivity and safeguarding their well-being.
